pecting to come later. Eliza accepted the little girl as a member of the family and reared her along with her other children as one of them.

Eliza was born September 4, 1870, to Mark and Mary Carlile Jeffs. She was the oldest of three little girls born to this couple. When they were very young their mother died. In the course of time their father married Sarah Ann Chatwin, who was a faithful and true mother to these little girls. To this union five other children were born.

Eliza was always a faithful member and enthusiastic worker in the Church. At a very young age she became secretary to Mary C. Willis in the Primary Association. At the age of 18 she was chosen president of the Heber West Ward YWMIA, and some years later was counselor in the presidency of the stake YWMIA, and then became president of the organization. She served for years as first counselor in the stake Relief Society, with Mima Broadbent as president and Clara Clyde as second counselor. She was president of the Heber Second Ward Primary three years. Eliza was an inspiration to her husband and always his support through his busy life. She was an efficient homemaker and a faithful and true mother. She passed away September 18, 1943.

Joseph's parents were among those pioneers who, with their families, spent the first winter in Heber Valley. Their home was at 288 North Main Street and it was here Joseph made his home after his marriage until it was sold to Joseph Olpin for his mortuary. The Rasbands then built a new home just south of the Olpins.

After Joseph returned from his mission he was employed in the Mark Jeff's Store. Some years later, when Mr. Jeffs answered a call to go on a mission to England, Joseph was made manager of the store. When the Mark Jeff's Store was sold and incorporated as the Heber Mercantile, Joseph Rasband was appointed general manager and held this position for thirty years. During that time the business prospered and paid substantial dividends to the stockholders. About 1936 the store was razed by fire, then rebuilt under different management.

Soon after returning from his mission, Joseph was called on a three-month mission in Salt Lake and Weber stakes, served as a home missionary in Wasatch Stake, and was a member of the Wasatch Stake Sunday School Board. In 1901 he became a member of the Wasatch Stake High Council. In 1903, when three wards were created in Heber from the East and West Wards, Joseph became the first bishop of Heber Second Ward. He served in this capacity 23 years. During the early years of his administration as bishop, the Heber Second Ward chapel was erected, through his untiring efforts and great enthusiasm, in record time. It was dedicated December 26, 1915.

He also gave of his time and talents in a community way, serving a term as mayor of Heber City (1904-06), and president of the Wasatch National Farm Loan Assn.

He, with his sons, have accumulated 15 years of foreign missionary service for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"Joseph A. Rasband was a friend of everyone, and he found joy in ministering to the poor and visiting the sick. He never forced people to live his ideas, but led them into doing things that were right. He lived for the masses and helped solve their problems. He avoided the publicity of high positions and discouraged the flattery of his friends. He overcame the tendency to selfishness and jealousy and rejoiced in the success of all. He was one of this community's most dearly beloved citizens. He was a good man and will long be remembered in the community by the works he left behind."

Joseph A. and Eliza Rasband were parents of 10 children. Eight of them are living in Heber at present (1959). They are: J. Sylvan, Walter J., Heber M., Reed, Mary, Irving K., Mima, Lincoln, Mark E. and Arthur.

THOMAS RASBAND AND ELIZABETH GILES RASBAND

Thomas Rasband was the son of John Rasband and Mary Henderson, and was born December 21, 1818, at Hinkley, Norwickshire, England, and baptized a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints by James Goodwin on August 30, 1850. He married Elizabeth Giles at Lincoln, England, in the St. Mark's Church, on January 25, 1847.

Elizabeth was the daughter of William

Giles and Sarah Huskinson, She was born April 11, 1826, at Loudham, Nottinghamshire, England. They had two children born to them in England. John was born April 15, 1848, and died June 30, 1848. Emily Rasband Hicken was born June 30, 1849.

In 1850 they came to America in the ship "North Atland," and made their home at Quincy, Illinois. William Giles Rasband was born here December 24, 1852, and a stillborn baby girl (Annie) born about 1855.

In 1856 they crossed the plains with ox team, arriving in Provo, Utah, August 25, 1856. Fredrick was born in a wagon box on September 2, 1856, before they could obtain a home in which to live. Thomas Heber was born January 15, 1859, at Provo, Then, the latter part of April, they came in a small company to Provo Valley (now Heber), arriving May 1, and as soon as possible began to put in crops.

Thomas Rasband must have been a leader of that brave little band of 19 families who spent the first winter in Heber. He performed the first marriage ceremony in the valley. The couple married was Charles C. Thomas and Emmeline Sessions. The date, December 25, 1860.

In 1861, Joseph S. Murdock was ordained a bishop by Brigham Young and sent here to organize a ward. He chose as his counselors John W. Witt and Thomas Rasband, with Henry Hamilton as clerk.

On February 22, 1862, Thomas was made justice of the peace in Precinct 1, comprising all the territory east of Provo River.

The first Relief Society was organized in 1869 and Elizabeth Rasband was one of the first members. When the ward was divided, in 1877, making the East and West Wards, she and Margaret Todd were made counselors to Margaret Muir and Thomas Rasband was ordained bishop of East Ward.

His first counselor was John Muir and Harmon Cummings was second counselor. He held this office until his death, on July 24, 1884.

He and his wife passed through all the trials of the early pioneers of Utah and the settling of this valley. Four sons and a daughter were born to them after their arrival in Heber. They were: George Wesley, James, Mary Elizabeth, Joseph A. and Charles.

Thomas, with others from the valley, answered a call to help defend the people from Johnston's army. They left home on October 9, 1857. He also fought in the Blackhawk and Indian wars.

Two sons have filled the position of bishop, namely, Joseph A., of Heber Second Ward, and Fredrick, of Park City Ward. Thomas was struck by his team of horses and pushed against the granary in June. He seemed to improve for a time, then infection set in and he died July 4, 1884. He was so well respected that the celebration and dance were canceled.

Elizabeth then lived with her children after her husband's death, and while visiting her son in Park City, Utah, she contracted pneumonia and died on October 15, 1900. Her services were held in Heber, conjointly with those of Mrs. Catherine McKnight.

WILLIAM GILES RASBAND AND MARIA CARLILE RASBAND

William Giles Rasband was born December 24, 1852, at Quincy, Illinois, son of Thomas and Elizabeth Giles Rasband. He married Maria Ann Carlile (born June 3, 1858, at Palmyra, Utah County; died on August 11, 1941, at Heber, Utah, daughter of George and Laura Ann Giles Carlile) on

FAITH OF OUR FATHERS

The Wasatch Stake Tithing Office, built in 1888 on Main Street in Heber, was an important building during the years when so much tithing was paid "in kind."

level was divided into bins for storage of different grains. A stairway and also a hand-operated elevator connected the two stories.

A large hay barn and hay shed occupied the east portion of the block. At harvest time it was quite common to have both buildings filled with hay and several stacks of hay in the yard. As many as 15 loads of hay would often be unloaded in a day as conscientious farmers gave their "tenth" to the Lord.

Elder Moulton, the tithing clerk, worked long hours to receive and account for the tithing paid "in kind." He usually opened the office at 7 a.m. and rarely closed before 6 p.m. He had to help with all the unloading and handling of the products. As there was no railroad service, all of the commodities shipped to Salt Lake City or other areas had to go out by wagon. At one time more than 300 bushels of potatoes were shipped from Heber and Wallsburg. The tithing clerk also had to do the painting and repairing of the buildings, and make out all the reports that were sent to the Presiding Bishop's Office in Salt Lake City.

Other tithing clerks who followed Elder Moulton included George Harbour, William Lindsay and Robert Duke.

Some years after the construction of the tithing office a remodeling project was carried out to add a baptismal font in the east room on the main floor. Prior to this the stake had conducted baptismal services once each summer at the Provo River, Spring Creek, the Millpond or some other designated place. The day was always an occasion as families gathered in their wagons or buggies, on horseback or on foot to participate in the "baptizing day."

Authorities of the stake realized the need for a baptismal font where the ordinance could regularly be performed, and so the facilities were constructed in the tithing office where services were held monthly.

A devastating fire on the grounds and out-buildings surrounding the tithing office broke out during a peaceful night in the fall of 1903, and before the bucket brigade could bring sufficient water to the scene the hay, barns and sheds were destroyed. The brigade saved the tithing office itself, however. This fire virtually brought an end to the payment of tithing "in kind." Farmers were urged to sell their produce and pay their tithes in cash. More adequate baptismal facilities were constructed in the new high school seminary building about this time, also, and the usefulness of the tithing office began to wane. The building was sold to Labon Hylton who converted it into two apartments, and then sold the property to Lowe Ashton who constructed a modern service station on the site.

BISHOP THOMAS RASBAND first bishop of Heber East Ward.

When Bishop Thomas Rasband of Heber East Ward died Robert S. Duke was called as the new bishop. His counselors were Orson Hicken and Henry Ohlwiler. Bishop Duke served until 1901 when he was ordained a Patriarch of the Wasatch Stake. However, the ward didn't lose Bishop Duke, for his son, Robert Duke became the new bishop, with Orson Hicken and George Wootton as counselors.

In the West Ward, Bishop Forman served until 1885 when he was succeeded by Bishop Henry Clegg. Thomas Hicken Jr. was sustained as the third bishop of the ward in 1894 and served until 1902 when he moved with his family to Raymond, Alberta, Canada. At the time he moved, plans were underway by the stake presidency to dissolve the two Heber Wards and create three new wards, so no new bishop was sustained.
